Foraker Chosen Chairman of Resolutions Committee

The committee on resolutions, when the convention adjourned, proceeded at once to the Lindell Hotel and organized Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, called the committee to order and nominated Mr Foraker, of Ohio as chairman Mr Teller, of Colorado, placed Mr Dubois in nomination Forty-one persons answered to their names Mr Foraker was elected, 39 votes being cast for him and four for Dubois

Those who voted for Dubois were the members from Colorado Montana, North Carolina and Utah Neither Foraker nor Dubois voted

Mr Merriam, of Minnesota moved that a sub committee be appointed to draft the platform and present it tonight to the full committee This suggestion was opposed by Messrs Teller and Dubois leaders of the silver movement, on the ground that it was better to discuss the financial plank in full committee

If its consideration were left first to a sub committee, they contended, the arguments against the gold standard plank, which they understood was to be adopted, would have to be made twice

Mr Merriam's motion was carried The chair appointed a sub-committee consisting of Messrs Foraker, of Ohio, chairman ex-officio, Lodge, of Massachusetts, Merriam, of Minnesota Fessenden, of Connecticut, Teller, of Colorado, Warmoth, of Louisiana, and Patterson of Illinois

Mr Burleigh of Washington, entered a strong plea in favor of giving the Pacific slope a representation on the sub-committee Mr Darlington, of Pennsylvania declared that the two great eastern States, New York and Pennsylvania, which represented in the aggregate one fourth of the population of the country, were not represented on the sub committee and he thought for that reason the Pacific slope could also remain unrepresented After some discussion the committee was increased by the addition of Mr Burleigh, of Washington, and Mr Lauterbach, of New York

A motion to adjourn until 8 this evening was carried, the understanding being that the sub-committee would meet at five and begin at once the formation of a platform If they should not conclude at 9 then they could at least report progress

The silver members of the committee were displeased at the meagre representation given them They complained that several members of the committee whom they regarded as bi-metalists, had 'fallen down' and joined the

Ranks of the Gold Men

The sub committee was appointed by the chairman after a conference with Senator Lodge It consists of 7 gold men, 1 sound money man and 1 silver man

An analysis of the personnel of this sub-committee shows it was carefully selected and for a special purpose Gov Merriam, of Minnesota, is the author of one of the staunchest gold planks offered for the consideration of the committee The standing of Senator Lodge, Mr Fessenden, of Connecticut, Mr Lauterbach, of New York, and Mr Patterson, of Illinois, is unequivocal

Mr Burleigh, of Washington, represents the State that was among the last to pass gold resolutions Mr Forsker, although preferring the omission of the word "gold," accepts the situation and will vote for that standard Ex Gov. Warmoth, of Louisiana, will fall into line, leaving Mr Teller the solitary silver man on the sub-committee.

Committee on Credentials Organized

The committee on credentials met in the rooms of the Massachusetts headquarters at the Southern Hotel immediately after the adjournment of the convention and organized by the election of J. Franklin Fort, of New Jersey, as chairman, Jacob P. Rieber, of Arkansas, secretary; J M. Gilbert, of Arkansas, assistant secretary, Edward Smith, of Colorado, sergeant-at-arms

J. C. Cowen, of Nebraska, submitted the following resolution:

That the roll of delegates and alternates prepared by the national committee for the purpose of this temporary organization be and the same is hereby adopted by this committee as the true and correct roll of the delegates and alternates to the convention and that this committee proceed with hearing the contests referred to it by the national committee, viz: the delegates and alternates from the State of Delaware.

W. P. Hepburn, of Iowa, offered the following substitute:

That the secretary be instructed to call from the convention consent for sitting during the convention and that the responsible committees proceed to hear cases of all contests in alphabetical order of States.

The substitute was lost, 36 nays to 17 [illegible]

Morton Still a Candidate

Mr Platt said this afternoon 'Mr Morton is still a candidate for the first place on the ticket'

When questioned as to the statement that he (Mr Platt) had received a telegram from Mr Morton to-day expressing his willingness to accept the nomination as Vice President Mr Platt said 'I can positively deny having received any such telegram I repeat that Mr Morton is still in the field for President'

From another source it is learned that many of the leading manipulators think it is practically decided that Mr Morton will be nominated for Vice President after Major McKinley is placed at the head of the ticket and assurances have been received that Mr Morton will accept

One of the most prominent of the eastern delegates said this afternoon "The ticket will be McKinley and Morton You may put that down as settled An understanding has been reached which will bring about that result Matters have been drifting that way for some time and unless the unforeseen happens Mr Morton will stand again for the Vice Presidency

A Protest Against Morton

The McKinley league of the state of New York held a meeting this evening to protest against the attempt to force upon the convention the nomination of Gov Morton for the Vice Presidency Resolutions to that effect were offered by John E Milholland and which he said were approved by McKinley's friends here and were adopted The grounds for their opposition were that the purpose of the movement was to discredit the candidacy of McKinley and weaken him before the convention, that it would drag into national politics the factional fight in New York and it was an insult to the friends of McKinley in New York

They therefore asked all the friends of McKinley to join in opposing the attempt to nominate Mr Morton or any other New Yorker for second place on the ticket

Dodgers reading as follows were subsequently scattered all over the city

'Colored Republicans Can you afford to support for Vice President a man who while occupying that office resigned his place as presiding officer to a Democrat when the Lodge election bill came up before the United States Senate? No, of course not Then you cannot entertain the idea a moment of giving second place on the ticket to Levi P Morton, of New York The Lodge election bill, had it become a law, would have given 2 000 000 colored Republicans of the South the right of franchise, but it was withheld owing to the treachery or doughfaced leadership of such Republicans as Thomas C Platt's candidate for Vice President'

The above is signed by Rev S Earnest Lyon, D D, Daniel Wisher Henry Cramer, I H Bailes R S G Miller and Granville H Hunt, the committee representing the Metropolitan district of associated churches, representing over 1 000 churches

Draft of Platform Not Completed

A few minutes after 8 the members of the resolutions committee again gathered at the Lindell but the sub committee did not put in an appearance.

At 8 40 Gov Warmoth, of Louisiana came over and said the sub committee was still in session and requested an adjournment until tomorrow at 10 This was done and the members present were informally addressed by a delegation of ladies favoring the insertion in the platform of a woman suffrage plank

Financial Plank

After the sub-committee on resolutions resolved to recommend to the committee on resolutions the following financial plank

The Republican party is unreservedly for sound money It caused the enactment of the law providing for the resumption of specie payments in 1879, and since then every dollar has been good as gold We are unalterably opposed to every measure calculated to debase our currency or impair the credit of our country We are therefore opposed to the free coinage of silver except by international agreement with leading commercial nations of the world, which we pledge ourselves to promote and until such agreement can be obtained the existing gold standard must be preserved.

"All our silver and paper currency now in circulation must be maintained at a parity with gold and we favor all measures designed to maintain inviolably the obligations of the United States and all our money, whether coin or paper, at the present standard of the most enlightened nations of the earth

The adoption of the above plank was not concurred in until four different propositions submitted by Mr Teller were voted down First Mr Teller proposed a straight out plank for free coinage at 16 to 1. This was followed by a proposition to coin the American product, although Mr Teller confessed that he did not endorse this proposition, but would take it if it was possible to get it

The third proposition was a resolution declaring for free coinage, accompanied by reasons which set forth the fact that the protective tariff system could not be maintained on the gold standard basis

The fourth proposition was a resolution submitted at the request of Mr Fowler, of Wyoming It provided for the coinage of the American product and a tariff on all silver and all silver ores imported into the United States

Mr Teller having been defeated all along the line said he was willing to leave the construction of the rest of the platform to the rest of the committee and started for his rooms for the purpose of getting a good night's rest

It was at Mr Teller's request that the committee decided to make public the financial plank upon which it had agreed

The Delaware Case

In the meeting of the committee on credentials this evening at 8 o clock, ex Senator Higgins, of Delaware was recognized and he proceeded to open the case in behalf of his delegation He said that J. Edward Addicks was no more qualified as a Republican to sit and act in this convention than would be Arthur P Gorman or David B Hill.

Construction of the Platform Completed

The sub-committee on resolutions completed the construction of the platform to-night shortly before 12 Every member was placed under injunctions of secrecy and the text of the platform will not be given out until after the full committee has acted upon it to-morrow morning. Preamble and arraignment of the Democratic party was written by Chas Emory Smith

The tariff plank is vigorous in denunciation of the policy of protection and reciprocity and is based upon the speech made by McKinley in opening the Ohio campaign at Springfield.

An effort was made to secure the insertion of a plank restoring bounties on sugar but this was defeated, although the subject was cared for through the medium of a declaration for protection of the American sugar grower and manufacturer.

The plank relating to foreign affairs is especially strong.

It endorses the Monroe Doctrine, commends the policy of the Harrison administration in affairs pertaining to Hawaii, and declares in favor of recognition of the Cuban belligerents as belligerents.

There is a strong pension plank in which the Democratic administration of the pension office is arraigned and a demand is made for liberal pensions

The committee is pledged to vote down any and all amendments that may be offered to the financial plank

Morton Not Changed

Mr Depew received to-night this telegram in answer to a query if he had changed regarding the Vice-Presidency

Troubles Come Thick in Baby's First Year.

Two-Thirds Die in Summer of Bowel Disorders.

The Scourge of Infants Under Five Years

Why Lactated Food Is a Sure Preventive

It Makes Weaning in Summer an Easy Undertaking

The first five year of every babys life is only a sort of probation

Insurance companies refuse to take the risk of their living and no one will be surprised who counts the funerals with the white hearse this and in the streets of every city and village throughout the summer

Half the deaths in June are those of children under five years

A third of all who die every year are infants

If every one of the children who succumbed to intestinal disease had been fed on a diet of pure lactated food there would have been no fatal cholera infantum The following words from Dr A L Grinnell the dean of the medical faculty of the University of Vermont should sink deep into the hearts of every mother who is worried and saddened in the hot days and nights begin to show the debilitating effects on baby's eating sleeping and growing

After using lactated food for five years in cases of children suffering from cholera infantum and in debilitating or wasting diseases during which time it has never failed me I have pleasure in calling the attention of physicians to it and in recommending its use

There is nothing equal to lactated food to take the place of mother's milk

It is made for the express purpose of forming a perfect substitute for healthy mother milk as analysis will show Children who are not eating well take lactated food without the need of changing

Babies do not get fat on it very heartily when hot weather comes Loss of weight is more dangerous at such times than any other

The danger lies in the child's food proving indigestible clogging and irritating and thus causing diarrhea and cholera infantum For these reasons mother and physicians find lactated food to be necessary and so satisfactory

The marvelous success of this food in keeping babies strong well and growing during the most dangerous heated months can be understood by a glance at its thoughtful composition

Nature's food for babies the mother's milk has been the model the principal element of breast milk is sugar of milk It is this base of lactated food With it are combined the nutritious elements of the great cereals wheat oats and barley so prepared as to be readily digested and assimilated The addition of the salts found in mother's milk makes lactated food a perfect substitute

Many a mother too has been strengthened by using it It makes nursing easy by providing an abundance of rich breast milk

Thousands of infants who's mother have been sickly have thrived and grown to be strong children upon lactated food which is as pure and health giving as the air among the hills of the Green Mountain State where it is made

Opening Day.

The Republican National Convention met at noon Tuesday and Hon Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana was elected temporary chairman without opposition The speech of the presiding officer elicited round after round of applause, especially those portions referring to protection and sound money Nothing of particular importance was done at the first session beyond perfecting the preliminary organization after which the convention adjourned until to-day.

The excitement consequent upon a national convention is manifested in the enthusiasm of the supporters of the different candidates The friends of Mr Reed are very active and as has been stated before will use every honorable effort to promote the success of his candidacy There no longer seems to be any disposition to question the fact of the option of an absolutely sound money platform According to the despatches received at this writing the wording of the currency plank has been agreed upon and as was to be expected it will be found to be sufficiently specific to please the most radical sound money men. Such action on the part of the convention will leave those papers that have been entertaining the hope that something in the nature of a straddle would be adopted in a most uncomfortable position.

Republicanism is only another name for principles of sound government and the candidates and platform of the St. Louis convention will command the hearty support of the people this year The despatches this morning will tell the story of the convention up to date.

The Democratic Brethren

Apparently our Democratic friends in the Fourth Congressional District are not in sympathy with the attempt of a certain faction of the party to place a sound money label on Democracy. The principal contest in the convention Tuesday was on the adoption of a platform An effort was first made to prevent the presentation of any resolutions, but this failed and a committee was appointed to report The majority of the committee came in with a single standard resolution, but it was thrown out by the majority of the convention which placed itself squarely on a free silver, 16 to 1, basis, and instructed the delegates to the Chicago convention to so vote It will thus be seen that the papers which have included Maine Democrats among the advocates of the gold standard are in error so far as this district is concerned Mr A J Chase, of Sebec, was nominated as a candidate for Congress, although some of the delegates suggested that they never had heard of him before.

The Democratic State Convention will meet in Portland to-day The impression seems to be that Mr E B Winslow of that city will be the nominee for Governor. Mr Moses, of Bath, having declined to permit the use of his name the contest is between Winslow and Hanson, of Belfast There is considerable opposition to the last named candidate on the ground that his nomination would be in the nature of an advertisement of his patent medicines Others, however, admit that the Democrats need something for "that tired feeling," and think on the strength of his nomination Mr Hanson might send around some sample bottles of his health restorer for the immediate use of the party

Whether the free coinage men from the district convention in this city will try and force their views into the platform remains to be seen If they do there is liable to be an interesting fight

Great Convention Hall.

Referring to the great auditorium in which the Republican National Convention assembled Tuesday, a correspondent of the New York Tribune writes: Within its walls the name of the next President of the United States is to be chosen by the largest National Convention ever held by the Republican party since its organization in 1856, when Fremont was nominated To understand the tremendous capacity of this building it is only necessary to cite the fact that 918 delegates, a like number of alternates and approximately 15,000 spectators will be gathered beneath its roof. The great white building shows no scar left by the recent tornado. Every breach has been closed, and not a broken glass or wrenched plank is left to bear witness to the storm's violence. The different sections have been tinted and lettered, the fleecy clouds of bunting are systematically arranged, and the pictures, shields and decorations are all in place awaiting the opening. The building is odd looking without, while within, in spite of the dingy black letters painted on the walls to designate the sections, all is beautiful. The blending of colors is practically perfect, and at no place in the hall is there a blemish of color that seems harsh to the eye.

One hundred and thirty swinging arc lights will make the Convention Hall as bright at day at night. There is the grandest display of American flags that was ever attempted in a decoration of this kind All flags of the Army and Navy are there, and the President's flag, a beautiful emblem, with which few are familiar, is displayed in two places, one above the speaker's stand and the other directly in the center of the building. Full scope has been given the decorator, and the rich silk flags, many of which are bordered with gold fringe twelve inches deep, the satin and plush decorations and the expensive bunting, all make it a luxurious spectacle.

The seating arrangements within the great hall are so nearly perfect as it is possible to adjust such a matter. There will be 980 seats on the platform, all of which will be taken up by the distinguished guests. The delegates members of the National Committee and their alternates will be seated, 409 on both sides. Surrounding these will be the thousands of seats for the spectators, with as many more in the gallery that completely encircles the big hall. It has been feared that the gallery seats immediately over the entrance to the press box would be undesirable, and that it would be impossible to see the speakers' stand from that point This is not the case. The speaker's head can be seen from any seat in the Convention Hall, and there is not a chair in the whole place from which 90 per cent. of the assembled multitude cannot be seen.

No one can become misplaced unless by some hook or crook he should be missed by three or four doorkeepers, in which case he will enter at the wrong door, and is then overlooked by a dozen ushers, twice as many assistant sergeant-at arms, and a larger number of other employes Down under the seats the arrangement of the rooms is about as complete as would be possible to get them On both sides of the main entrance is a large committee-room, in which the Credentials Committee, the Committee on Resolutions, on Permanent Organization and on Rules and Order of Business will carry on their deliberations In the southwest corner is the telephone room, and in the center of the west side is the office of Sergeant-at-Arms Byrnes following the walk round on the north side you first come to the rooms set aside for the United Press, and next to that, just to the west of the entrance to the press gallery, is the Postal Telegraph office, where a corps of fifty or sixty men will be at work. East of the press box entrance is the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company, where there will be sixty operators, and adjoining that, in the corner, will be the room set aside for the Associated Press and its corps of correspondents The room at the southeast corner of the building will be occupied by the Convention restaurant

There is no lack of conveniences in the great hall Half a dozen long distance telephones will connect it with every important city east of the Mississippi river, and not less that 200 telegraph wires will place San Francisco, Winnipeg, Montreal, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington Baltimore, Jacksonville, New Orleans Galveston and all intermediate towns and cities in direct communication with the convention For the especial use of the representatives of McKinley, Reed, Allison and other candidates, sound-proof boxes containing long distance telephones have been placed at the foot of the stairs in the rear of the speaker's stand From these it will be possible for the friends of the candidates to talk directly to them and consult them of every important move that is made or contemplated in the Convention hall

Viewing the conveniences and the beauty of the decorations, men who have attended many national conventions say that this has never been equalled In the vastness of the space to be covered the beauty of the design is in a measure lost at first sight but as one stands in the great hall the grandeur of the scene grows upon him, and he soon finds himself lost in admiration of it When the big hall is filled with people, when the banners designating the location of the States are set in place, the bands begin to play and the great speakers and statesmen and politicians are assembled there, it will be a sight unrivalled by any national gathering of a political party ever held in the world

FOREIGN NEWS.

Large Number of Spanish Officers Flocking to Havana.

Yale University Crew Practicing at Henley -- Other Items.

Havana Jun 16—For the first time a number of Spanish officers have been seen in the streets of this city. Since the arrival of the Spanish troops from the interior there has been a great number of officers present, colonels and lieutenant colonels and other officers. Their hotels and cafes are crowded with them and no one seeing them would imagine that the island was in a state of insurrection.

The presence of these officers in such a large number has given rise to the rumor that they have been called here to confer with Gen Weyler and another rumor has it that Gen Martinez Campos is on his way to Havana to take out of Gen Del Rey's hands the chief command, which it is said he is not equal to. The latest report is that Gen Campos will visit the interior of the island in company with Gen Weyler and Gen Del Rey, with a view to ascertaining the chief points of insurrection and the best means of putting an end to the rebellion.

Gen Weyler is said to be in communication with the leaders of the insurgent bands in the province of Santa Clara, and it is believed that he is trying to induce them to surrender.

The task of disarming the people—enquiring into the record of each person and providing for the punishment of those found guilty of feasible crimes—is a long and difficult one. The Rural Guards are also very active in their efforts to capture insurgents. Many arrests have been made in the province of Santa Clara during the past week, and the prisons are filled with those charged with complicity in the rebellion. Many of the prisoners are said to be in a very destitute condition, and it is feared that they will die from starvation before their cases can be tried.

Gen Weyler has issued a decree ordering the confiscation of the property of all persons who are found guilty of aiding the insurgents in any way. Members of regular bands will be tried by court-martial.

The efforts of the Government to restore peace in the disturbed districts are meeting with considerable success. Many of the insurgents are surrendering their arms and returning to their homes. Many of the leaders have been killed during the past week, and the insurgents are losing heavily in every engagement with the troops. Many of the insurgents are said to be suffering from wounds received in battle, and for want of proper medical attendance they are dying in large numbers.

To Recall Gen Campos

Madrid Jun 16—It is reported that Gen Martinez Campos will shortly be recalled from Cuba and that Gen Weyler will be appointed to succeed him.

Yale Crew in Practice

London Jun 16—The Yale University crew which will contest with the Leander boat club at Henley on the Thames during the regatta next month, arrived at Henley this morning. The Yale crew will practice this afternoon for the first time on the course over which the race will be rowed.

Of the Van Industrial Bureau and Village Relief Work April 1st to May 1st 1896

During the past month the manufacturing department has been closed owing to lack of raw material The struggle to resume the work in their homes has continued In the matters H B M Van Williams, and the Governor and Council co-operated, and have done all they could to secure the goods for the workers, but yet, in spite of all efforts we have seen new incursions of wilderness regions, near and far off, and hundreds and hundreds of families including all grades of society who, as by instinct, fled at once to the quarter of the city where the Relief Bureau is located and American Mission Through this quarter with the perpetual turmoil of [illegible] progress, is thronged with wretched men, women and children. Many of the prisoners are said to be in a very destitute condition, and it is feared that they will die from starvation before their cases can be tried.

Gen Weyler has issued a decree ordering the confiscation of the property of all persons who are found guilty of aiding the insurgents in any way. Members of regular bands will be tried by court-martial.

The efforts of the Government to restore peace in the disturbed districts are meeting with considerable success. Many of the insurgents are surrendering their arms and returning to their homes. Many of the leaders have been killed during the past week, and the insurgents are losing heavily in every engagement with the troops. Many of the insurgents are said to be suffering from wounds received in battle, and for want of proper medical attendance they are dying in large numbers.

THE FIRST DAY

Of National Republican Convention at St. Louis.

The Usual Preliminary Business Gotten Well Under Way.

Some Interesting Features of the Day in the Convention City.

Convention Hall, St. Louis, June 16.—The first day of the convention opened with unclouded skies and with the prospect of extremely hot weather. Although the convention was not to be called until noon the streets in the vicinity of the hall were thronged for two hours before that time with strangers who had come to witness what they could of the grand spectacle and who naturally drifted around the auditorium, but the doors were closed to all persons including delegates and alternates until the time should arrive for their official opening.

The only exception to this rule were newspaper men, furnished with badges and tickets of admission; officials of the convention and several hundreds, special and general aids to the sergeant-at-arms.

Conspicuous in this class was the secretary of the convention, Charles W. Johnson of Minnesota, late clerk of the United States Senate, who arrived early and busied himself in arranging the tables at which he and his assistants including Henry Smith, late journal clerk of House of Representatives were to sit and transact business.

There were a few indications in the hall of the locations to be occupied by the various delegations. The row of seats immediately fronting the President's chair was assigned to the state of Maine and the two rows back of these to the state of Massachusetts.

Next behind Massachusetts came four rows assigned to the state of New York. Back of these were assignments for states of Michigan and Wisconsin.

The chairs in the extreme back rows were marked off for the delegates from the territories and the District of Columbia. That disposed of the first section immediately fronting the chair and the presiding officer.

With the exception of Iowa and Kansas to which back rows of the next section on the right were assigned, and of Alabama, which had the front row of that section, there were no indications in sight of where the delegations from the other states were to be located, but a tiling passed on similar round bearing the placards with the name of the states painted in white letters on a blue ground were placed in position.

At 11 o'clock assignments were completed for all the states. In the section immediately to the right of the platform were fixed the placards for the states California, Colorado, Connecticut, Illinois, Washington, Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, South Carolina, Louisiana, Nebraska, New Jersey, West Virginia, Delaware, California and Alabama being in the front rows and the other states ranged behind them in order named.

The other states were fixed in the section facing the platform on the left hand side. An hour was occupied by the assistant sergeant-at-arms in instructing and locating his deputies, ushers and assistant ushers, and in the meantime a band of music in the gallery behind the platform played various airs.

The doors were not open for general admission until about quarter past eleven and from that time on spectators made their way to the galleries but not in large numbers.

Tickets for admission were put at the high figure of $40 for the set that is for every session of the convention.

At 11.55, the delegations began to arrive, those of California and Maine being the first to enter the hall. They did so without demonstration.

At 12 noon, all the delegations had arrived and been seated without any special demonstration.

While waiting for the convention to be called to order the band played some good music.

At 12.20, Senator Carter, chairman of the Republican national committee, called the convention to order and Rabbi Sale offered prayer.

At the close of the chaplain's prayer, Chairman Carter said: "This convention is assembled in compliance with the terms of a call issued by the national committee on the 11th of December, 1895, which call the secretary will now proceed to read."

The secretary did so in a voice which was inaudible at 40 feet distance and amid frequent cries of "louder." Chairman Carter then said:

"Gentlemen of the Convention—By direction of the national committee, I present for your approval for your temporary chairman Hon. Chas. W. Fairbanks, of Indiana." Mr. Fairbanks was chosen temporary chairman without objection and delivered his speech to clear tone.

Mr. Fairbanks' reference to the impossibility of compelling fifty cent silver dollars to circulate in unlimited numbers on a parity with gold was greeted with a loud burst of applause while Senator Teller smiled seriously and one of the western delegates in the rear emitted a dismal owl call.

His reference to Blaine provoked a genuine demonstration, the convention rising and cheering repeatedly.

At the conclusion of Fairbanks' speech the various officials were appointed. It was decided that the convention be governed by rules of the last Republican convention.

The roll of the states and territories was called and the chairman of each delegation announced the names of the persons selected to serve on the several committees. It was voted that all resolutions in respect to the platform be referred to the committee, without debate.

The roll call of States for Committee on Resolutions was completed at 1.42.

The Committees on Resolutions, Credentials, Rules and Permanent Organization were notified to meet immediately after adjournment and the convention at 1.46 took a recess until 10 A. M. tomorrow.

Some of the Planks of the Platform.

St. Louis, June 16.—The effort to incorporate in the tariff plank a clause favoring a bounty on sugar manufactured from beets will not be done for the reason that it would commit the party too strongly to the policy of paying bounties, a question upon which the party is more or less divided.

The subject will be taken care of in the general tariff plank. The Cubans, now engaged in rebellion against the Spanish government, will find hope and comfort in the expression of the convention with relation to this subject.

A separate plank will express strongly the sympathy of the Republican party for Cuban patriots and a declaration will be incorporated favoring the recognition of their independence.

Civil service reform promises to give rise to some debate in the committee. A determined effort will be made to secure a vigorous plan endorsing civil service incidentally condemning the administration for its violation of civil service rules and regulations.

The contest between the advocates and opponents of civil service promises to be warm and spirited, but it is believed that the friends of civil service will carry the day.

The proposed ship protection plank, drawn by Senator Lodge, first found expression in the Massachusetts platform, since which time it has been incorporated in the platform of 15 different state conventions. It will read as follows:

"We pledge ourselves to restore the early American policy of discriminating duties for the protection of our shipping in the foreign carrying trade so that American ships, the product of American labor, employed in American shipyards, sailing under the stars and stripes and manned and officered and owned by Americans may regain the carrying of American foreign commerce."

"The text of the financial plank of the platform was agreed to this morning at a conference held after breakfast. ...

maintain inviolable the obligations of the United States and all our money whether coin or paper at the present standard, the standard of the most enlightened nations of the earth."

Large Influx of People.

More people arrived in town yesterday than on any previous day during the past week. It is estimated that from 35,000 to 40,000 people are here. Hotel accommodations are at a premium. Manager Cunningham, of the Planters, says he has 1200 guests, while the Southern is accommodating about the same number. The smaller hotels are also crowded and the boarding houses are doing a land office business. At the big hotels the guests stand in line waiting to get a chance to enter the dining rooms, which are crowded from early morning to late at night.

In default of sufficient accommodations elsewhere, many sleep on cots in vacant stores in the heart of the city. A big store opposite the exposition building was rented by an enterprising man, who fitted it with eighty cots and has hung out a sign reading: "Beds one dollar a night." St. Louis people deny that the crowd is too big to handle. But, nevertheless, there is none too much room in which to turn around.

Reed Men Encouraged.

The managers of the Reed campaign held a conference last night to balance their accounts of votes. When they had finished at midnight Congressman J. F. Aldrich, of Chicago, said: "The Reed men are greatly encouraged by the day's developments. We calculate that Reed will poll 145 votes at the start. We have telegraphed for a lot of Reed supporters who had intended to stay at home, asking them to come here at once. If we had another week and the Reed sentiment continued to grow as it has today we could win on the first ballot."

Conference of Leaders.

Thomas C. Platt strolled out of his room last night and alone walked up one flight of stairs and slowly along the corridor. He was met at the end by ex-Gov. Foraker and together they went directly to the rooms occupied by Matthew Stanley Quay.

Mr. Quay was there in company with Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, and the four sat down behind closed doors. When asked about the latter, when it ... declined to state why it was held, but it was learned that both the gold plank matter and the vice presidential matter were talked over.

It is understood that the project of Merriam, Platt, Lodge and Foraker throwing the vice presidential nomination to Morton, despite his wishes, was broached.

Mr. Foraker went directly to Mr. Hanna's room when he came down, and was closeted there at a late hour. It is farther understood that Mr. Foraker presented for consideration a special plank, which reads about as follows: "We favor bimetallism only if an international agreement ... ensuring that a standard can be obtained from the leading commercial countries, otherwise we favor the present standard of value."

As Mr. Hanna and Mr. Lodge separated, Mr. Hanna smiled and remarked to Mr. Lodge "Really Mr. Lodge you are the most persistent individual with whom I have ever come in contact." and with a touch of sarcasm he continued, "Of course the McKinley men will be permitted to write the tariff plank and that will come first."

"Certainly," said Mr. Lodge, "the tariff plank will come first. I am not at all unreasonable. I do not care in the least what cover you paint this wagon, so long as you paint it red," and the conference ... [illegible]

The draft of the plank before noted was not finally agreed to until almost two o'clock this morning and after its preparation it was carefully read and assented to by Mr. Hanna and Mr. Foraker. Mr. Foraker will be chairman of committee on resolutions.

It was given out early in the fight that Mr. Lodge was to be its chairman provided the straight out gold plank was adopted, but having won this fight and the McKinley men having come gracefully into the gold camp Senator Lodge rested his case, and Mr. Foraker will be chairman.

National Committeemen.

Following additional national committeemen have been selected by state delegates: Florida, E. R. Gundy; Louisiana, A. T. Wimberly; New Hampshire, Person C. Cheney; North Dakota, W. H. Robinson; South Carolina, E. A. Webster; Vermont, George J. Childs; Wyoming, Willis Vandeventor; Indian Territory, Leo E. Bennett.

Rumor that Mr. Morton Has Reconsidered.

A very persistent rumor was started early this morning and was heard simultaneously in three or four different quarters that Mr. Morton had reconsidered his declination and would accept the vice presidency if tendered him. For what purpose this rumor was put in circulation it is difficult to say, but that it had a purpose is apparent.

Mr. Platt declined to discuss the matter in any shape. "We are here," he said, "to nominate Mr. Morton for the Presidency and until that matter is disposed of we are not considering the vice presidency."

Mr. U. S. Grant, Jr., who is here as a member of the California delegation, makes the announcement that his brother, Col. Fred Grant, of New York, will be a candidate for the second place on the ticket.

Speaking of the mention of his own name in connection with that office, he said: "No, I am not a candidate. My brother, Col. Fred Grant, is my candidate for the vice presidency."

"He has been quoted as saying that you are a candidate!"

"Yes, I know; but he will be a candidate, and he is my candidate. You know, this vice president question is never properly brought up until the President has been named. The second place is a sort of consolation cup. My brother Fred will be a candidate and I think should be nominated. His candidacy will not be pushed until the time comes. I am proud of the fact that he is my brother. I think the soldiers who were under my father, and their sons, will support him, but his own record deserves it. I don't ask it for him on his father's record."

Speaker Reed's Maine friends don't attach any special significance to the petition, which was sent him from Boston, asking his acceptance of the second place on the ticket. Mr. Reed is very popular in Massachusetts. The politicians from that state say that he is their natural choice for the Presidency, but that failing to secure this honor, they would like at least that he should accept the vice presidency, feeling that it would greatly strengthen the ticket.

Mr. Amos L. Allen, who is one of the delegates at large from Maine and who is also Mr. Reed's private secretary, said to a United Press reporter this morning that under no circumstances would the Speaker accept the nomination for second place.

"We are here to nominate Mr. Reed for the Presidency. We are not considering him in any other connection. He is too big a man to take the second place on the ticket. He understands and we understand that the Vice Presidency is merely a niche which may be filled by the selection of any available man usually from a doubtful state who may be selected as a matter of expediency.

In his present office as speaker, or in any other capacity, Mr. Reed is a more important figure than he could be in the Vice Presidency. It is for this reason that nothing would induce him to accept the nomination. If the convention should nominate him and adjourn he would certainly decline it."

Probable Action of Silver Men.

The ante-convention talk largely centered upon the probable action of the silver men if the gold plank was adopted.

Notwithstanding Senator Teller's cautious statement, that there would be no organized dramatic bolt, those who have been in consultation with him indicate plainly an intention of withdrawing from the convention hall before the proceedings terminate, and even Senator Teller admits that the silver men may find it necessary for their self respect to refrain from participation in the proceedings.

Senator Cannon, of Utah, puts it more bluntly. "How can we remain," he says, "and assist in the nomination of a ticket which we intend to oppose? Of course we might go out."

The exodus may not be made by the silvermen in a body, but it seems to be the settled programme that they will "fold up their tents like the Arabs and silently steal away."

Lydia E. Pinkham

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Will cure the worst forms of female complaints, all ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb, and consequent spinal weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the change of life.

Every time it will cure Backache.

It has cured more cases of leucorrhoea by removing the cause, than any remedy the world has ever known; it is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors. Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills work in unison with the Compound, and are a sure cure for constipation and sick headache. Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash is of great value for local application.

A traveling man was sipping soda at an Auburn drug store the other evening. "Speaking of patent medicines," said the drummer, "reminds me of my visit to an Oxford county store the other day. The conversation turned to the large business in patent medicines. 'Yes,' said the proprietor of the store, 'I lost a good customer not long ago. I had sold him sixty bottles of a kidney and liver cure.' I enquired how long the man took the cure. 'He took it until he died,' was the reply."

York.

Sanford business men are beginning to realize that they have been taken in quite extensively by a smooth-talking stranger, but are willing to call it square if he doesn't come back at the head of a gang of burglars and rob their stores. The chap arrived in town last week and at once leased a store which he said he was going to open as a cut-rate dry and fancy goods establishment. Then he began to borrow sundry sums of money and ask credit at the stores for small orders of goods. One day he left town saying he would be back at once and bring his wife. But he hasn't shown up, and the merchants recall with apprehension the fact that he seemed much interested in the way they secured their money from possible burglary.

Dr. D. T. Call, of Biddeford, who resigned the pastorate of the Advent church, has withdrawn the resignation at the request of the parish. The legacy amounting to $12,000, which Mrs. Eliza Remery, of Everett, Mass., left to the church, has shrunk to about $6,000 by litigation. The parish will spend $2,000 in repairs on the church and place the balance on deposit.

A dwelling on Main street in Biddeford owned by Mrs. Lewis Small, of Brunswick, and occupied by the families of Councilman E. L. Cowan, Robert Donaldson and Nathaniel Cowan, was damaged early Tuesday morning by fire from a defective chimney. Loss, about $2,000. Mrs. Small and Mr. Cowan were insured. The flames burst out again at 2.45 A. M. after the firemen had gone home.

Civil Service Examination

The Civil Service Commission at Washington has ordered that an examination be held in this city on Saturday, June 27th, 1896, commencing at 9 o'clock, A. M., for positions in the classified Custom House service in the Bangor Customs District.

Only citizens of the United States can be examined. The age limitations for this examination are as follows: The minimum age limitation for the grades of clerks and of messenger is 20 years. The minimum age limitation for all other grades is 21 years. There is no maximum age limitation. No application will be accepted for this examination unless filed with the undersigned in complete form, on the proper blank, before the hour of closing business on June 22nd, 1896.

The Civil Service Commission takes this opportunity of stating that the examinations are open to all reputable citizens who may desire to enter the service, without regard to their political affiliations. All such citizens, whether Democrats or Republicans, or neither, are invited to apply. They shall be examined, graded and certified with entire impartiality, and wholly without regard to their political views, or to any consideration save their efficiency, as shown by the grades they obtain in the examination.

For application blanks, full instructions, and information relative to the duties and salaries of the different positions, apply to

JOHN T. GILMAN,
Temporary Secretary, Board of Examiners Custom House Service.

The Oven Birds.

A new oven is built every year, and I have more than once seen a second oven built on the top of the first, when this has been placed very advantageously, as on a projection and against a wall. A very curious thing occurred at the estancia house of a neighbor of mine in Buenos Ayres one spring. A pair of oven birds built their oven on a beam end projecting from the wall of a rancho. One morning one of the birds was found caught in a steel trap, placed the evening before for rats, and both of its legs were crushed above the knee.

On being liberated it flew up to and entered the oven, where it bled to death, no doubt, for it did not come out again. Its mate remained two days, calling incessantly, but there were no other birds of its kind in the place, and it eventually disappeared. Three days later it returned with a new mate, and immediately the two birds began carrying pellets of mud to the oven, with which they plastered up the entrance. Afterward they built a second oven, using the sepulcher of the dead bird for its foundation, and here they reared their young. My neighbor, an old native, had watched the birds from the time the first oven was begun, feeling greatly interested in their diligent ways, and was more convinced than ever that the little house builders are "pious" birds.—Good Words.

Crime Increasing In Boston.

Crime is steadily on the increase in this city, despite the efforts of the police. No better evidence of this can be found than in Clerk Fred Ingalls' report of the number of cases disposed of in the city's criminal court from Sept. 30, 1894, to Oct. 1 of this year. Clerk Ingalls has handled something like 45,000 cases the last year, of which 26,957 were warrants issued on various criminal charges. The previous year 25,480 warrants were issued. The report shows an alarming increase in drunkenness. There were 1,030 more inebriates called to account this year than in the preceding one. The year has been marked by 13 murder cases, 9 manslaughters, 88 robberies, 51 forgeries, 357 burglaries, 1,654 assaults and 17,249 cases of drunkenness.—Boston Traveller.

DON'T SCATTER.

We often hear good old ladies advise their friends when they are afflicted with boils and other swellings of a similar character that indicate a bad condition of the blood, to "take somethin' to scatter 'em." This is the worst advice that could be given, for, if "something scattering" is taken, the poison in the blood, which the system is trying to throw off through the boil or whatever the swelling may be, is driven back into the system, and so effectually "scattered" through it; and by and by it is likely to manifest itself in terrible ways. What should always be done when boils, pimples, and other eruptions of a like nature appear, is to give something that will act on and with the blood, and help it to relieve itself of the impurities in it; something in short, to assist the system in its effort to throw off impure matter which does not belong there. If swellings and eruptions increase after beginning to take such a medicine, be sure that it is doing exactly what it ought to. It is driving out the poison. When the blood is purified these outward indications of inward impurity will cease. The medicine that does this work most effectively is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

The Congregational church of Fort Fairfield will run an excursion to Moosehead Lake and Kineo over the B. & A. sometime the first of July. The excursion will occupy two days. Leaving there on the regular morning train (7.10,) to Brownville, then by special to Greenville, arriving there at 2.10, thence by boat to Kineo where the party will remain over night, returning next day and arriving at Fort Fairfield on the 9.30 P. M. train. The round trip by rail will be $2.00 and by boat about 75 cents. This is one of the most delightful regions in all Maine, and it is understood that it is to be the only excursion to Moosehead from Aroostook this season.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Fourth District Congressional Nomination and Choice of Delegates to Chicago.

The Fourth District Democratic convention was held in Bangor City Hall yesterday forenoon and this necessary form in the preparations for the funeral obsequies of the party at the polls in this State in September was entered with due ceremony. The convention chose two delegates to the Democratic National convention in Chicago, nominated a candidate for Congress, adopted a free silver resolution, and performed other minor functions.

It didn't seem to be a very enthusiastic gathering that assembled at 10.30 o'clock. It was understood that there was to be a contest for one of the National delegates and this excited some interest among the friends of the candidates, but the lack of united enthusiasm on any particular issue showed the undercurrent of the feeling of the utter forlornness of the hope of the party's success in this State. The delegates nerved themselves up to the point of applause a number of times but the feeling of melancholy would go down and even broke out in the utterances of some of the speakers.

The convention was called to order by William Harris, of North Dixmont, secretary of the district committee. The delegates were all in the rear of the hall and the room appeared decidedly empty, so he requested them to "come up front," which they did, en masse, and filled about three or four rows of seats at the front, with a few sitters scattering behind. There were eight spectators in the gallery.

Mr. Harris read the call and announced the temporary organization as consisting of Thomas White, of Bangor, chairman; F. M. York, Caribou, M. C. Madden, Oldtown, J. H. Williams, Guilford, secretaries.

Mr. White took the chair and made a few remarks relative to his belief and hope in future Democratic success.

W. Y. Patch, Esq., moved that the district committee be made the committee on credentials and it was so voted. Shortly afterwards the committee reported 155 delegates present—110 from Penobscot county, 9 from Piscataquis, 28 from Washington and 18 from Aroostook.

On motion of J. B. Madigan, Esq., of Houlton, the temporary organization was made permanent.

Then came a little squabble over the resolutions question.

C. F. Ward, of Bangor, moved that the convention proceed to the election of delegates to the National Convention.

P. H. Gillin, Esq., of Bangor, moved that a committee on resolutions be appointed.

Mr. Ward thought the delegates should be elected first.

George W. Drisko, of Machias, said that he thought it best that no resolutions be passed. The party was in the minority, with but one representative from New England in Congress and he thought the delegates had better make their nominations and then go home and work for the candidates.

J. F. Robinson, Esq., of Bangor, Henry Hudson, of Guilford, Hon. J. P. Bass and others made remarks and finally Mr. Ward's motion was withdrawn and a committee on resolutions was appointed, as follows: Henry Hudson, Guilford, G. W. Drisko, Machias, P. H. Gillin, Bangor, J. B. Madigan, Houlton, and George F. Hill, East Corinth.

On motion of P. H. Gillin, Esq., Ara Warren, of Bangor, was chosen by acclamation as a delegate to the Chicago convention.

Then came the main contest, that for a second delegate, and for a time there was a lively tempest in the tea pot.

Dr. G. Gilmore Weld, of Oldtown, was nominated by Mayor Hartwell, of Oldtown, as a sound Democrat from the only Democratic city in the district.

Mr. Lynch, of Machias, placed R. W. Sawyer, of Calais, in nomination, as the candidate of Washington, Aroostook and Piscataquis counties. He said these counties had a right to representation and he thought Penobscot county, although it had the most votes present, would in justice give it to them.

J. B. Madigan, Esq., of Houlton, spoke on the same strain and C. F. Ward, of Bangor, hastened to assure him that he need have no fears of Penobscot county not doing what was right.

Henry Hudson, of Guilford, moved that Mr. Sawyer be chosen by acclamation. This was met by cries of "No! No!" He then requested Dr. Weld to withdraw.

Hon. J. P. Bass, of Bangor, spoke in favor of Dr. Weld, saying that Dr. Weld was an outspoken bi-metallist and would so vote, while the other candidate's views were unknown. He spoke against the gold standard and was continuing at some length when he was interrupted by cries of "Question! Question!" He said emphatically that he had the floor and intended to keep it but was most through, and finished.

W. Y. Patch, Esq., moved that a committee of five be appointed to receive, sort and count votes, and this made more trouble. The Sawyer men had no votes printed, and P. H. Gillin, Esq., moved that a rising vote be taken.

Dr. Weld, having been called on to withdraw, twice, rose and stated his views on the silver question, and said that he should remain a candidate to stand or fall.

After more discussion, the question of ... [illegible]

he should do his best to see fair play but he thought it would prevent all question by taking a ballot.

Dr. Weld stated that he would be satisfied with a division and and so tellers were appointed and a division ordered.

The division showed a large majority for Mr. Sawyer and upon motion of Dr. Weld the choice was made unanimous.

Dr. Weld and Mr. Gray, of Lubec, were chosen alternates.

The nomination of a candidate for Congress came next and the first name presented was that of A. J. Chase, of Sebec, by Dr. Weld, and seconded by Mr. Lynch, of Machias, who moved his nomination by acclamation.

George W. Drisko placed G. W. Hall, of Bangor, in nomination.

After some remarks by others Mr. Chase was nominated by acclamation.

The district committee was appointed as follows: Penobscot County, William Harris, Ara Warren; Aroostook, P. C. Keegan; Washington, B. G. Lane; Piscataquis, A. M. Robinson.

A vote was passed endorsing Charles L. Snow, of Bangor, for delegate-at-large to the Chicago convention.

The district committee was empowered to fill vacancies or attend to other necessary business.

The consideration of resolutions came last and was the cause of another more or less lively fight. By this time a large part of the delegates had left the hall, only the more interested remaining.

The majority report from the committee on resolutions presented resolutions in favor of the single gold standard, endorsing Cleveland's administration and instructing the delegates to Chicago for the gold standard. Hardly had Chairman Hudson finished reading these when Hon. J. P. Bass, M. E. Madigan, and several others, who were drawn up in a line in front of the chairman's desk waiting for the finish, simultaneously moved their laying on the table, and G. F. Hill said he had a minority report to present.

Remarks were made by Mr. Hudson, motions were made to endorse and advance the platforms of the State and National conventions and considerable discussion followed. The minority report was finally laid on the table by an overwhelming vote.

The minority report was then read and adopted. The following is the resolution thus adopted:

Resolved, That we favor the National Bank system except that they should bank upon a non-interest bearing bond and be allowed to issue to the full amount of their capital.

Resolved, That we believe that the government should control the issue of money, gold, silver and paper, and have the right to issue legal tender notes at any time when the demands of trade require it and in a suitable ... demand.

Upon motion of Mr. Patch, ... forth, the following was adopted:

Resolved, That we, the Democrats of the 4th District, are in favor of the free coinage of silver ... that the delegates be instructed to so vote in the National Convention at Chicago.

The convention was then adjourned.

Inspecting the Maine Central.

This is about as busy a time of year for the railroad commissioners as they experience, and they are likely to get the move. This week they are examining the Maine Central R. R., having commenced Monday. On this road there is in Maine a mileage of 648, which has to be traversed by the commissioners and carefully inspected. In their travels over this, they have to cover 1400 miles, having to double their courses in getting to and from the points of termini.

Monday, they went out to the New Hampshire line, returning to Portland at noon for dinner. Then they started out from Portland on the main line, examining a part of it. So it goes, and by the end of the week, they will have inspected all the bridges, culverts and various openings.

Of these there are in all 725, which have to be examined. Lists of them are made out and given the engineer of the special train with the distances at which they are located. Accordingly he knows when and where to stop.

The car is so arranged that the commissioners can see out of the rear and while on the route examine the rails and see that the surface, sleepers and alignment are as they should be. They will examine the main line to Waterville Wednesday, starting at Brunswick.

There is in all a mileage of 1,004 in the State, which requires examination twice a year. Of course some places demand more attention than others and the examiners know the lay of the road well enough to enable them to do their work expeditiously; but it is a great job.

The increase in railroad building through the State, especially in Aroostook and Oxford counties, makes lots of hearings and petitions for crossings. Sometimes it's a road that crosses a highway; next time it's a highway that crosses a road; and sometimes it's a road that crosses another road, when they have a high old time. The inspections have to be made by the commissioners in person, so they have to pack up and go all over the State. It all takes time and they are pretty much on the go.

Harper's Weekly
IN 1896.

HARPER'S WEEKLY is a journal for the whole country. It deals with the events of the world that are important to Americans.

In carrying out this policy, in 1895, Julian Ralph visited China and Japan, and journeyed through the West; Richard Harding Davis took a trip through the Caribbean Sea; the evolutions of the new navy were described and illustrated by Rufus F. Zogbaum; Frederic Remington presented studies of Army and Frontier life; Poultney Bigelow attended the opening of the Kiel Canal.

In 1896 like attention will be given to every notable happening. The chief events in art, literature and music and the drama will be artistically presented. W. D. Howells, in the new department, Life and Letters, will discuss in his interesting way books and the social questions of the time. E. S. Martin's sprightly gossip of the Busy World will be continued. The progress of the Transportation Commission around the World will be followed, and Charles W. Whitney will conduct the department of Amateur Sport.

In 1896 will occur a Presidential election. In its editorials and through its political cartoons the WEEKLY will continue to be an independent advocate of good government and sound money.

In fiction the WEEKLY will be especially strong. It will publish the only novel of the year by W. D. Howells, and a stirring serial of a South Seas by S. R. Crockett. The short stories selected are of unusual excellence and interest. In every respect HARPER'S WEEKLY will maintain its leading place in the Illustrated journalism of the world.

The Volumes of the WEEKLY begin with the first Number for January of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order.

Remittances should be made by Post-office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Summer came again yesterday, after being away on a vacation and the birds sang.

The annual Congregational conference of Penobscot county will be held in this city at the Hammond street church Thursday and Friday.

Mr. A. M. Robinson, Jr., has begun the foundation for a new house to be erected on State street in the rear of his residence at the corner of State and Essex street.

The Waldo & Penobscot Agricultural society will hold a trotting and pacing meeting on the grounds in Monroe on Wednesday, June 17th. A number from Bangor will attend.

The Flying Yankee was in charge of Baggage Master Feeney Tuesday noon when it left for Portland. Conductor McIntire is absent from the road for a day or two on business.

B. L. Smith, Esq., of Patten, is in the city on business for a few days. Mr. Smith is about to make extensive alterations upon his home at Patten and he came to this city to get the interior finish from Morse & Co.

Mr. Michael J. Desmond, the chief upholsterer for the G. W. Merrill Furniture Co., is in Bar Harbor, superintending repairs on the upholstery of the steamers of the Bangor & Bar Harbor Steamboat Company.

Mr. R. Perley Smith, of New York, formerly of Bangor, will be married today to a young lady of Cambridge, at her home. Rev. Walter R. Hunt, formerly of this city, now of Duxbury, Mass., will be groomsman at the ceremony.

The many friends of Miss Edith M. Bradford will be pleased to know that she is to give a recital on the 26th. Miss Bradford is well known as a very pleasing singer and her vocalization has been much improved by study with Charles R. Adams, of Boston.

The directors of the Mattawamkeag Log Driving Co. will be in session at the office of the clerk, T. S. Moor, in Bangor, on Thursday at 10 30 o'clock A. M. for the purpose of making assessments upon the owners of logs in the present year's drive, to pay the expenses of driving said logs and incidental charges.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. John H. Dunroe were held at St. Mary's Catholic church Tuesday forenoon, and many friends were present. Very Rev. M. C. O'Brien, V. G., officiated, and the bearers were Messrs. M. J. Brennan, W. J. Casey, Thomas G. Donovan, W. F. Curran, J. P. Frawley and Thomas W. Grubin.

The annual reunion of the survivors of the Third Army corps and the 3rd annual banquet of the Third Army Corps union, will be held in Portland, June 24 and 25. The reunion will be formally opened Wednesday afternoon, June 24, at 1 o'clock, by assembling in the parlors of the Falmouth Hotel, which will be the headquarters.

The Bangor Trotting Association has been formed in this city. It consists of twelve members including some of the most prominent horsemen in this vicinity. The first races to be given under the direction of the new association will be held at Maplewood Park on Friday, June 26. There will be three classes, the 2.40, 2.31 and 2.25 class. The races will be trotted under the National Association rules.

Steamboat Inspectors Horace Atwood and Charles Staples, Jr., were in the city yesterday. They have just inspected nine boats at Rangeley and two at Twin lakes, and on Tuesday went to Mt. Vernon to look over a new boat. The inspectors have examined ten new boats this season and the total number inspected since the beginning of the season amounts to ten more than the record of last year up to this date.

The body of Joseph De Rosier, who was drowned at Second Lake May 28th, was recovered on Sunday last and arrived in this city Tuesday on the B. & A. train at 1.20 P. M. The remains were removed to Finnegan Bros.' undertaking rooms and after being prepared for burial were removed to the home of the deceased on Oak street, South Brewer. The funeral will take place today at 1 P. M. He leaves a widow and one child, four brothers and six sisters, who will have much sympathy.

A handsome residence is to be erected by Dr. Alfred Walton on the Bowler lot on State street, which was recently purchased by him. The house will have a stone foundation. The main house end to the street, will be 25x28, with an ell 20x42½ feet, making a total length of 70 feet 6 inches. On the first floor will be vestibule, reception hall, parlor, sitting room and dining room, connected by dumb-waiter to pantry and kitchen. In the ell will be an office and operating room, with independent entrance. On the second floor will be six chambers, each with a large closet, and a bathroom. A porch will run along the street end and west side of the house. The house will cost from $7,000 to $10,000.

Class of '76 Reunion.

The 20th anniversary of the class of '76, State College, was observed last evening by a banquet at the Bangor House at 9.30. The class numbered 33 and there have been only three deaths. The Messrs. Chapman served a fine spread. Mr. E. M. Blanding, secretary, read letters and telegrams from absent members. Remarks were made by Prof. Esterbrooke, Hon. C. E. Oak, of Caribou; Col. C. P. Allen, of Presque Isle; J. E. Dike, C. E., of Sebago; S. W. Jones, of Springfield, Mass., and H. J. Long, of Rogue Bluff. Pleasing reminiscences were indulged in. It was voted to have the next reunion five years hence. The reunion was a most enjoyable one, being of a happy and interesting nature throughout.

Williams-Ritchie.

Our Bradford correspondent writes: One of the most pleasant events of the season took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ritchie on Sunday, at 1 P. M., it being the occasion of the marriage of their daughter Miss Minnie E. and Mr. George H. Williams.

The marriage ceremony was performed by W. T. Kingsbury, Esq., in the presence of the near relatives and a few invited guests.

Both the bride and bridegroom are well and favorably known and a large circle of friends wish them a long and happy wedded life.

TER IFIC BATTING.

Ba gor Won from the Pawtucket Hustlers.

A Game Bristling with Homers, Three Baggers and Fine Plays.

Visitors Played a Great Uphill Game and Showed Good Courage.

We have referred to the pluck and hustle of the Pawtucket team in complimentary terms and those qualities were well shown yesterday when they struggled along bravely in the face of a lead on the part of the Bangors of ten runs at the beginning of the game. Along the first of the game Phenom Smith said to his men: "Go at it—you never can tell what may happen." Those were the words of a born leader of men, and we will be glad to present him a laurel wreath at the end of the season when the victorious Bangors have gotten through with it. We like his spirit.

Smith put in his pretzel battery against us, Herr and Yeager. Mein Herr is a nice, pleasant looking fellow, with sun-kissed locks and a round, rosy countenance. He didn't last long—and yet the time did seem long for ten runs and eight hits were made off him before he retired in the first inning. It was a picnic for us and put everybody in a good humor—except the visitors. Then Herr tore his hair and communed to himself that he knew when he had gotten enough, so he retired to private life and Herr Sprogell went in. It was a pretzel battery still. He was also batted hard but the hits were fairly well scattered.

The Bangors put lots of life and spirit into their playing and it was good to see. They coached well and were interested all the time. Braham was touched up in lively style in the third and fifth but for the rest he pitched fine ball. After the 5th only three hits were made off him.

Lack of space forbids a detailed account. It was exciting and interesting throughout. It was hit and run with a vengeance. It is seldom that such a game is seen. It was great sport and the visitors climbed up in such a manner that they made it appear that the home team would have no walk-over.

The features were the phenomenal catches of Simon, Moore, Sharrott, Whiting, Smith and Hannivan and the batting of Smith, who is a daisy, and Henry Roach would have made a homer of his three bagger ordinarily but remarkable fielding resulted in a put out at the plate. Rudford was as lively as a cat and batted well and Bobby Moore put up his usual brilliant game. Simon covered himself all over with glory. Hannivan did fine work and he and Yeager yelled like Comanches. The latter caught his usual fine game. Attendance, 900. The score:

Game To-day.

This afternoon the Pawtuckets and Bangors will struggle again and you may be sure that it will be a hot fight. The Pawtuckets are great fighters and never say die, so it will be a stubborn fight throughout probably. Horner, our new man, will pitch for us and everybody will want to be there to see him. Much is expected of him.

Notes.

The most absurd rumors have been afloat here regarding changes in the team, etc. They had no foundation in fact and how they became so well circulated is a mystery. There has been dissension in the team caused by one or two men, whose kicking was against Manager Long, for no fault of the latter, but matters are now quieting down and the team is working together all right and playing snappy ball. Manager McDermott will not tolerate mischief making or indifference and it would have been better for Mr. Long if he had asserted his authority in that line. But all is harmony again in the Bangor team and all willing to do the best work possible. We are climbing and we have no doubt that every member of the team will do his level best for success. The team is a fine one and we expect great work from them. All together, boys.

Umpire Connelly's decision in calling Hayes out at first yesterday was very bad. He was off on balls and strikes too. Remarkable, indeed, that all the close decisions go against us day in and day out, isn't it? We get the short end of umpiring with wearying regularity!

Center field is being well covered by Henry and Bobby Moore. The latter gets the short ones in fine style that Henry can't get to.

The Bangor High School ball team defeated the Business College team yesterday afternoon on the common by a score of 15 to 13.

Johnson is captaining the Augustas.

Paul Radford made his 30th run Saturday.

Lewiston won its first game from Pawtucket Saturday.

Cayanaugh, of the Portlands, has played five games without an error.

McKenzie, of the Brocktons, has been batting more successfully of late.

On Saturday not one of the Lewistons of a year ago was on the field.

Hannivan closed last week with a batting percentage of .431, with totals of .600.

Every club has beaten its opponents, with one exception—Augusta has yet to win from Portland.

In four games, including Saturday's, 74 runs were made against the Fall Rivers and 18 by them, a fine score to pound out 18 hits were made off Lee Easterbrooks.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

At the Maine State College—Exhibition Drill Tuesday Forenoon—Fraternity Receptions in the Afternoon—President's Reception in the Evening.

Bright, warm weather favored the commencement exercises at the Maine State College yesterday and the campus was a pleasant scene of activity. Many alumni and visitors arrived early to witness the exhibition drill and attend the other exercises of the day.

The regular trustees' meeting was not held yesterday morning as no quorum was present. The president of the board, Hon. Henry Lord, of Bangor, was on hand early to preside over the meeting and Col. Charles P. Allen, of Presque Isle, graduate of the class of '76, Arthur L. Moore, '79, now of Orono, and Hon. Elliott Wood, of Winterport, were also in attendance, but it takes five to make a quorum.

Hon. William T. Haines, of Waterville, the secretary of the Board, is generally present but this year he is in St. Louis attending the convention. The other members are Hon. B. F. Briggs, who sent an excuse for his absence; G. J. Shaw, of Hartland, and Hon. R. B. Shepherd, of Skowhegan.

Exhibition Drill.

The drill commenced at 10 o'clock before a large number of spectators. The military instructor, Capt. W. S. Edgerly, of the 7th U. S. Cavalry, was present. The battalion was in charge of Major Frank L. Marston, of Bangor, who handled the corps with much skill.

The Cadet Band with H. P. Merrill, '98, as drum major headed the corps as they marched to the parade grounds and furnished excellent music during the drill. The band was much assisted by Messrs. E. C. Adams, Charles Lord and Albert Hicks, of the Bangor Band.

The corps were put through battalion drill for half an hour and then after it should rest dress parade was formed when the battalion was drawn up in line and the general orders appointing the officers for the ensuing year were announced. The drill was well executed and was witnessed with great interest by the spectators.

The following is the list of appointments which are subject to the approval of the faculty:

Fraternity Receptions.

In the afternoon the annual fraternity receptions were held and the fraternity houses of the Beta Theta Pi, Alpha Tau Omega and Q. T. V. open to receive the many friends of the students who came from Bangor, Orono, Oldtown and other places.

The Beta Theta Pi house was beautifully decorated for the occasion and Pullen's orchestra of six pieces stationed out on the beautifully terraced lawn in front of the house, played finely. The guests were received by Mrs. David Wilder Colby, Mrs. E. A. Balentine, Mrs. Arthur L. Moore and Mrs. Alden P. Webster. The members of the senior class, Messrs. E. Everett Gibbs, C. P. Weston, P. B. Palmer, R. L. Feruald and E. R. Simpson were also in the receiving line, while the other members of the fraternity and several of the alumni were with the guests.

The double parlors were decorated with evergreens and ferns and banks of flowers were placed in convenient niches. Pansies and saffron tea rose, the chapter flower, were pleasingly used.

Fruit punch was served for refreshment, the table being presided over by members of the chapter under the direction of Miss Farrell, '98.

The new chapter house of the Kappa Sigma fraternity was not opened to the public this year for any formal reception but it is expected that it will be at another commencement.

The Q. T. V. chapter house was very inviting to the many friends of the members. Potted plants and cut flowers, among the latter, white carnation, the society's flower, formed the principal part of the decorations.

The guests were received by Mrs. Prof. Hamlin, Mrs. L. W. Cutter, of Bangor, and Mrs. Prof. Jordan. Allen Rogers, '97, performed the introductions. Refreshments of fruit punch and wafers were served.

The Alpha Tau Omega at its chapter house welcomed their guests very cordially. The receiving party consisted of Mrs. Prof. Rogers, Mrs. L. H. Merrill and Mrs. H. A. Hooper, Rev. Mr. Andrews, Instructor H. G. Robinson and Mr. H. C. Farrell, '96.

The parlors and dining were handsomely decorated. The parlors were decorated with ferns and red peonies and red plants in profusion while the dining [illegible]

A Unique Letter.

A woman of this city who lost her pocketbook on New Year's day has just received the following unique letter:

LONDON, January, 1896.

LADY—On New Year's day I was in New York, and at an overland railway station on the Third avenue and Eighteenth street I found a pocketbook, which I think is your property. As I was going directly aboard the steamer for London, where I belong, thank God, I had not time to hunt you up. Now here at home my Missus has a lodger that comes from your country, he is a Yankee, and they do say he is an honest man (I do not believe myself that there is any honest Yankees), but the Missus says that he is a real gentleman well she is boss she ought to know, well this Yankee comes over here about 8 or 10 times a year with fine stock and he puts up with my Missus and as he pays his score I think we can trust him with the purse their was nothing in it of value except a piece of green paper, which said the United States would pay on demand the sum of One Dollar wich I sold for four Shillings, but that was little enough for all my trouble and as I am an honest man I do hope the Yankee will go and give you your pocket book.

—New York Tribune.

Kruger's Idea of Government.

The report of a recent tour made by President Kruger of the Transvaal republic throws considerable light on his ideas of government. At one place a leading burgher wanted a compulsory education law. The president simply would not hear of it. "No, no," he curtly replied. "That is a church question, not a political one." "But," urged another burgher, "why could we not have compulsory education, as other countries have?" "Yes," replied the president, ignoring the case of England, "education is compulsory in other countries, but so is military service. This is a republic, and people may keep their children in ignorance if they please."

A Great Traveler.

In noticing the death the other day of Benjamin Liverman at the age of 95 years the Minneapolis Tribune says: "Mr. Liverman was a great traveler in his younger days and rode over the earliest railroads of the world. He was also the first travelling man to go on the road in this country, going through the southern states for a New York jewelry house. He went to California in 1851 on the same ship with Horace Greeley. They were quarantined at Panama for six weeks, when the railroad was being built, and Mr. Liverman knew from his own observation the truth of the statement that every tie in that road cost a human life."
